The Christmas Truce

Five months into World War 1, on December 25, 1914, German, British, and French soldiers were tired of the seemingly senseless killing. The soldiers disobeyed their superiors; and along two-thirds of the Western Front, the soldiers put down their guns and made friends with the enemy, a crime that held a death sentence. German troops held up small decorated trees and signs above the trenches that said "Merry Christmas". "You no shoot, we no shoot" could be heard along the front. Thousands of men came across no-man's land to have Christmas together. They sang carols, shared pictures of family, played football, and ate together. Soldiers embraced men they had been trying to kill a few short hours before. Never before had such events took place.

Songs and movies have been made to memorialize the Christmas in the trenches. One of the most powerful lines in the song by John McCutcheon follows: "The frozen fields of France were warmed as songs of peace were sung. For the walls they'd kept between us to exact the work of war, had been crumbled and were gone forevermore." May you find friendship and peace this holiday season.

- Anna Willcutt was accepted to SEMO.
- Desirea Eckhoff was selected as a Quest Bridge student. Congratulations!

- Congratulations to the VEX Robotics Team 3885B (UniTech Career Center) on winning their first tournament this year. They currently hold the Missouri record and are 94th in the world.
